LOCAL BOY CHARGED WITH INTENT OF MURDER

Coldest Wave of Winter Hits This Section

LOWEST POINT OF THE WINTER IS REGISTERED

Cold Wave Sunday Dropping to 12 Degrees Is Followed By Another Cold Wave

SIX LAST NIGHT

Nation Generally Was Hit By Coldest Wave of the Winter During the Past Week

A new low record for the winter was established last night as the mercury tumbled yesterday, reaching 6 degrees above zero this morning at 7 o'clock. A light snow fell during the night, but the moisture will be very limited from this snow.

The coldest wave of the winter hit Canyon Saturday night, the temperature dropping to 12 degrees above zero at the lowest period.

Twenty degrees was the lowest point registered up to Saturday, this being recorded on Nov. 3rd.

December weather was the finest that the Panhandle has enjoyed in years, according to those who have lived here for some time. The temperature has not run below the freezing point excepting upon occasions, and then for only a few hours at a time.

Moisture was promised by the weatherman over the week-end, but the snow which was predicted escaped this section of the Southwest, and the sudden drop in the mercury came instead.

Prosperous Year For H. D. Clubs

Report of Year's Activity Is Made By the Home Demonstration Agent of County

A good year has been finished by the Home Demonstration Clubs of Randall County with Miss Allie Dozier, county home agent, in charge of the work.

The two demonstrations worked on during 1936 were Home Food Supply, with sponge cakes as the special phase, and Wardrobe Work. 1342 sponge cakes were reported made by the members and of the 61 exhibited and judged, 34 were standardized.

Gardens were not of the best this year, and most of the fruit had to be bought, but in spite of all this, 33,642 containers of fruits and vegetables were reported canned during the year. 5,327 cans of meat and 13,318 pounds of cured meat also have been reported by the members.

This was the third and last year for wardrobe work in Randall county. There have been 2,900 garments made at an estimated saving of $1,250.00. In June the last dress contest was held with 11 demonstrators and 50 co-operators taking part. Mrs. R. B. Gist, winner in the county, was sent to A. & M. for the state dress contest and won fourth place in the state.

Council Reports

The 1936 expansion program outlined by the Council was to reach more people and to make Home Demonstration work better known in the county. The reports of expansion work were very incomplete, but 52 people were helped for the first time by demonstrations, information, and visits. 371 other women, excepting club members, were helped by the different clubs of the county, making a total of 69 per cent of the farm families of the county who received help from the Home Demonstration agencies.

The Home Demonstration Club Council has sponsored all county exhibits. In March all clubs were represented in the Amarillo meat show. Randall county won first with 79 entries.

In April an exhibit was taken to the Plainview Dairy Show. There

Postal Receipts Reach New High Mark During '36

Past Year of Local Office Exceeds 1935 By Near $900.00, Setting a New High Record

Postal receipts for Canyon increased $837.15 during 1936 over the previous year.

Receipts for the local office have shown a steady increase annually during the past ten years, and it was this record which convinced the federal government that a post office building was needed in Canyon.

The receipts for 1936 amounted to $18,724.41 as compared with $17,887.26 for 1935.

Several towns in the Panhandle showed a decline in postal receipts for the past year.

W. T. BUFFS LOST 3 GAMES

Close Scores Are Made In Games Lost by Buffs in the Oklahoma City Tourney.

SOPHS SHOW WELL

Team Leaving Today to Play Three of Leading Teams in East Texas on Road Trip

Looking to the future with more optimism, and satisfied with the experience gained in the tournament at Oklahoma City last week despite a ragged showing, the West Texas State cagers have revised their weak defense before their tour into East Texas for five games beginning, Friday, Jan. 8.

In this trial run against other members of the Lone Star Circuit, Coach Al Baggett will employ a fourteen man squad, 11 of which are sophomores whose knowledge of college cage tactics is virtually nil and void. Defying their inexperience, Coach Baggett pronounced that a little more seasoning will iron out their defects.

Lother Stephenson, regular six feet six inch forward from Anton, is still hampered by an early season injury. Chick Neilson, speedy six feet two inch forward of Spearman, has now recovered from an ankle injury, and should be in good condition at the time of embarking.

It was the six feet eight and one-half inch sophomore Raymond Shackelford of Childress that threw the Oklahoma fans into a frenzy in the Sooner tournament. Repeatedly, Shackelford galloped through for crip after crip, and paced the Buffalo scoring with 47 points in the four games. He was selected by officials as the tournament second string tip-off man.

Another sophomore, Joe Hayes of Allison, stepped into the spotlight, and has about definitely landed a starting berth. Hayes' games is grounded on superb ball handling, hustle and a keen eye for the hoop. With Hayes and Captain Lawrence Clark of Turkey

Rainfall for 1936 Little Less Than Total During 1935

Less rain fell in Canyon during 1936 than fell during 1935. The total moisture for the year was 13.73 inches, as compared with 13.79 during 1935.

The rainfall for Canyon does not represent an average of the county by any means, since the rains during the year were very spotted, with many sections of the county receiving practically normal rainfall for the year. The Canyon vicinity was shorter on rain than any section of the county.

Better crops were raised during the past year than were raised during 1935 due to the rains which came at the most profitable season for the growing crops.

The lack of sub-moisture is the greatest need for 1937. Wheat opens the New Year in much better condition than the country has seen for several years, but the crop is growing almost entirely on top moisture in a major part of the county.

Daughter of Chas. Green Is Buried Here Last Sunday

Shirley Jean Green, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Green, died in Brownfield Saturday. The body was returned here for interment Sunday. The family had lived in Canyon until recently.

The child is survived by her parents, one brother and one sister.

Miss Dorothy Gore of Brownfield spent the week at the home of her mother. She is with the Resettlement Administration.

County Committee Will Discuss Dam and Lakes Tonight

Leaders From Four Precincts Will Make Plans For Panhandle Group Meeting Jan. 18

Members of the county wide executive committee on water conservation will meet at the court house tonight at 7:30 o'clock to discuss plans for the proposed dam on the Tierra Blanca south of Umbarger and other conservation problems of the county.

W. A. Warren, county chairman, has mailed notices to all precinct members asking them to this meeting. Other citizens interested in conservations are cordially invited to attend.

The Panhandle wide meeting to be held in Amarillo on Jan. 18th wishes to have before it all of the lake and dam projects which may be submitted from the counties of the Panhandle. All committeemen of Randall county will present their projects for the various precincts of the county.

Mr. Warren met with the Commissioners Court Monday and it was agreed that Randall county pay its part of the assessment which has been made to carry on the work of water conservation. A budget of $10,000 was made up at the recent meeting in Amarillo to pay the expense of the fight to be carried on in Washington. No salaries will be paid from this fund, as all work will be done voluntarily. The assessment is made on a quarterly basis so that it may be discontinued at any time deemed advisable.

It is believed that President Roosevelt will give a pretty clear program after his inauguration on the 20th of this month. If he favors water conservation at its source, the Panhandle committee will be in a position to act promptly. If he is not favorable to this program, the work will be discontinued, and no one will be out anything, excepting the small amount of time which has been devoted to the Tierra Blanca and other projects.

Body of J. M. Walker Shipped To Iowa Tuesday

J. M. Walker, 60 years of age, died Friday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock. The body was shipped to Kellerton, Iowa, on Tuesday where it will be interred near the old home of the family. The family had lived here for the past six years.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Griggs-Thompson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum.

Lyman G. Walker of Kellerton arrived Sunday to take his mother back home with him, but she was unable to leave owing to illness. She will leave as soon as she is able to travel.

Surviving are: the widow and two sons, Lyman and Jamie Walker; a sister and one brother.

E. F. KING IS VICTIM LAST WEEK ATTACK

James Fred Fogg, Living in Northwest Part of County, Is Indicted by Grand Jury

COURT IN SESSION

Grand Jury Returns Five Bills; Little Business During First Week of District Court

The young man who attacked E. F. King in Amarillo on last Wednesday turned out to be a Randall county boy, James Fred Fogg, living in the northwest part of the county. King was superintendent of the Canyon schools several years ago, and is now teaching in Amarillo.

Two indictments were returned against Fogg by the grand jury Monday and he will be tried in the present term of district court. Young Fogg is charged with assault with intent to murder, and with theft of King's automobile.

Mr. King was driving from his home in Amarillo late Wednesday evening when a young man stepped from the curb, got into the car, drew his gun and ordered King to drive into Randall county. On the way out he bragged about being a tough guy and had killed a man in Houston. He stated he was from New Orleans.

King Cuts Man

After taking King's purse and watch in South Amarillo, the young man took the wheel, putting King in the back seat. Fearing that he was to be driven into the country and shot, King pulled out his knife, slashing at the driver's throat. The knife went deep into young Fogg's cheek, and the car went across the ditch, smashing through a fence into a wheat field.

Fogg snapped the gun three time at King, but owing to a weak spring, the shells failed to explode. Fogg beat King over the head with the gun, and left him badly

Rear Admiral Spoke Tuesday at Chapel of W. T. Program

A rear admiral of the United States Navy was a speaker at W. T. Tuesday, and it was the first time that an officer of that rank has spoken here.

He was Rear Admiral J. O. Richardson, a native of Texas, and a brother of Miss M. Moss Richardson, member of the local college faculty.

Admiral Richardson is proud of the record of Texas in connection with the navy. Said he, "Of 58 active admirals in the United States Navy, seven are from Texas. This is twice as many as from any other two states of the union.

The enlisted men of our navy are superior to those of any other navy of the world and the equal of any group of the same size in the United States today, according to Admiral Richardson, who closed his address by saying, "This is the first time I have ever spoken to a civilian audience like this; I am accustomed to speaking to naval officers, but I should like to give a bit of advice from my long experience: first, learn to get along with people; listen to arguments, but do not argue, and say good things or nothing, and praise people for the things they can do. Second, never permit anybody to treat you unjustly without telling them about it, but at the same time make up your mind that you will accept a certain amount of injustice as inevitable in life; in this way you will keep your self-respect, and at the same time never become sorry for yourself."

Admiral Richardson was on his way to Washington, D. C., to work on a committee which selects officers for promotion.

Judge Burney Slack left Sunday for Austin where he is attending a meeting of school superintendents this week. Legislation to present to the coming session of the legislature was up for discussion.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

Most Americans ask themselves each morning as they pick up the daily newspaper, "When will another world war start?" Head-line readers are convinced that the time is not far away. Economists who have made a study of European conditions are convinced that the time is not yet ripe, and that the predicted war will not come for many months. Italy is broke; Germany is on the verge of actual food shortage; Russia is taking her time building a powerful war machine; Japan is short on money, and will not be the aggressor; France cannot be a thing without the backing of England; and England is too smart to start a destructive war which would imperil the existence of little islands. The powerful dictators of Europe show much bluster and plenty of bluff, but without doubt understand the limitations of their several countries. But the continued war scare keeps the entire world in a state of anxiety which is mighty hard to overcome.

W. E. James and Miss Lillian Peek have been fired from their positions by State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods. Both have rushed statements to the newspapers charging that Woods is using his office for political purposes. If he did not, it would be the first office holder in Austin who had not made use of this practice. That he fired subordinates should not and possibly will not arouse much comment excepting among those who would like to oust Woods. There will probably be an investigation from the legislature, and Woods will probably be agreeable to such an investigation, or at least he should be willing to lay the cards on the table. Holding office is not a flowery bed of ease. The public is hard to please. Perhaps Woods is not the best man who could have been elected to the office he holds, but the fact remains that he was a good politician and was able to convince the voters that he was the best candidate for the job.

Psychologists claim that 85% of the people never advance in intelligence beyond the age of a 14 year old child. If true, this accounts for a lot of things in this world. It explains why there are a handful of gamblers living at the expense of those who are so easily fleeced; it explains why such a small percent of the world's population amass great wealth while the remainder stay poor; it explains why more than 90% of those who go into business for themselves eventually fail; it explains why the world loves dictators, and how these dictators are able to control and direct people; it explains why so few young men and young women actually take advantage of the wonderful educational system which is offered for them. Perhaps the psychologists are wrong in their actual percentages, but nevertheless it is a well recognized fact that a too small percentage of the people of the world never actually grow up.

Representatives Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg will present a constitutional amendment to the legislature to make the term of all elective offices four years and limiting the term for the Governor to four years. The argument in the past against a long tenure of office is that four years is too long for a Governor unfit for the job; and if he is really worthy of the office the people will return him. Oklahoma has the one four-year term limit, but the quality of governors has been nothing much to recommend the amendment to Texas. The politicians will oppose the four-year tenure, as they like to keep the political pot boiling. The four year term for all officials would tend to lower the expense of office holding and should make better officials of those who are elected.

Senator Redditt says that Texas needs no new taxes in spite of the 15 million dollar deficit in the general fund, and in spite of the new departments of government which have been approved by the legislature. It takes money to make the wheels go 'round, but if the state can get the necessary money without additional taxes, well and good; but if the state continues going deeper and deeper in debt as it has the past eight years, something should be done about it. Personally, The News favors the state increasing taxes to gradually eliminate the deficit. It could not all be wiped out in one or two years without hardships upon certain citizens, but on the whole it is good policy not to continue spending more than the income amounts to.

The Republican party spent 45 cents per vote in the recent election, while the Democratic party spent 12½ cents per vote. The Socialists spent the lowest sum of all parties, only 11 cents, while the Communists had to invest $2.02 per vote in the campaign. Liberty League, Jeffersonian Democrats and other off-shoots of the Republican party which were spending without control of the party organization probably ran the Republican costs up considerably. Old timers in party organization usually know where to spend money to secure results, while freshmen in politics waste their funds in useless schemes.

The News received a very sensible New Year greeting from a firm of national reputation: "It will be our continued endeavor to uphold the principles upon which this nation was founded, which have proven the backlog of its progress and prosperity, and to champion the rights of the individual be he laborer or capitalist, to the end that each laborer may never be denied the opportunity to become a capitalist and that the capitalist shall be deserving of his position through the public service he renders."

Prices are soaring. This is the best evidence of returned prosperity. When prices are dropping, look out, something is wrong. When prices continue to improve, general conditions are on the mend. Of course not everyone is able to profit by these increased prices, but on the whole the country shows a tendency to be better off as prices advance. Those who suffer as a result of increased prices are those who are unable to increase their income along with the advancing prices.

Murder on the highways continues to increase. Many firms are putting governors on their cars, limiting the speed to 50 miles or less. It is proposed that congress set the maximum speed at 50 miles, and require all cars to be manufactured with this limit. This would cause great inconvenience to many drivers who have need for speed at times, but at the same time something must be done to curb those who drive to kill.

A few weeks ago the cabinet makers had it all doped out that President Roosevelt was going to do a lot of firing. Now they are not so sure of their predictions. So far as known the president has not disclosed his plans to anyone. Any man who can make a national campaign for re-election without making a single promise is pretty apt to be able to keep his plans for his cabinet to himself.

The last month of 1936 witnessed an unusually large number of airplane disasters. Wrecking the large air liners has a bad effect upon the public mind. However the temporary halt in air patronage will soon be forgotten. The most permanent effect will be the death of those able pilots who are spending their lives to make air travel safe and profitable.

Governor La Follette of Wisconsin is determined to fire President Frank of the University. It is usually the football coach who is under fire. The question naturally arises, just who knows how the university should be run—a man trained for the job or a politician.

Evidently Tom Blanton cannot take defeat. He has filed suit for $100,000 damages against his successful opponent, Judge Clyde L. Garrett, and two of Garrett's leaders. Those who enter politics must know there is only a 50-50 chance of continued success.

In order to keep the German people from complaining because of the shortage of food, Nazi propagandists print pictures showing starving people in the United States and in other nations. Misery loves company.

As Capitol Awaited Inaugural

Ready for the first Jan. 20 inaugural in the history of the country, the capitol at Washington presented this aspect after carpenters finished erection of official stands. Enactment of the "lame duck" amendment set Jan. 20 as the inauguration date, departing from the traditional time of March 4. President Roosevelt has asked for a simple ceremony.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS
As primary shoe "A," is applied against the moving brake drum, the drum helps to apply pressure on secondary shoe "B." As a result, about one-third less pedal pressure is required of the driver.
Four of these brakes, with a total area of 186 sq. ins. give 1937 Ford V-8's greater braking surface per pound of car weight than any other 1937 American-built car. No wonder Ford V-8 brakes are called "Easy-Action Safety Brakes."

CHURCH CEREMONY FOR KING-JARRETT NUPTIALS

The First Methodist Church in Childress was the scene of the beautiful marriage ceremony of Miss Mamie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. King of Childress, and Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Jr., Friday, Jan. 1, at high noon.

An alternation of yellow snap dragons with sprays of greenery banked the altar before which the bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. E. J. King, with the Rev. E. A. Maness performing the ceremony. White candles burned during the services.

Full pleated sleeves and a flowing skirt were features of a white satin gown worn by the bride. A shirred high collar turned back to the shoulders. Gathered into a halo effect by a spray of California orange blossoms was a short veil. Bride's roses and white sweet peas, tied with white satin ribbon, formed the bride's bouquet.

Gold satin gowns with buttoned backs and high rolled collars worn by Miss Ima Gentry, maid of honor, and Mrs. Oscar Trent of Henryetta, Okla., matron of honor, contrasted the white satin worn by the bride. The bridesmaids, Miss Virginia Jarrett of Canyon, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Carl Denny, were attired in gold satin gowns with puffed sleeves, buttons down the front, and semi-"Queen Anne" collars. The four wore poke bonnets and carried bouquets of yellow talisman roses and white sweet peas draped with gold satin streamers.

Mr. Boone McClure of Amarillo was best man. Felton King, brother of the bride, Newton Crain of Canyon, and Delbert Newberry, acted as ushers.

The processional, "Lohengrin's Wedding March," and the recessional, "Mendelssohn's Wedding March," were played by Miss Maggie Knight. "I Love You Truly" was sung by Mrs. Rouse Howell of Dallas. A white-vested choir sang the bridal chorus from "The Rose Maiden." "Melody of Love" was played on the violin by Mrs. C. W. Newberry.

Hold Reception

Mrs. Jarrett was graduated from the Childress High School, and later attended Texas State Woman's College at Denton. After receiving her degree from West Texas State College, she taught school at Highpoint. She was a member of the Wilson School faculty until Christmas.

Dr. Jarrett, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett of this city received his degree from W. T. and his doctor's degree from the State Medical School at Galveston. He is serving his internship at St. Joseph's Hospital in Kansas City, Missouri.

Following the services, Mrs. E. J. King, mother of the bride, entertained at her home in Childress with an informal reception for relatives and close friends. A three-tiered white cake bearing the name "Mamie and Bob" in gold letters carried out the color note.

The couple left immediately for Kansas City, which will be their home until July 1. At that time they will move to Canyon, where Dr. Jarrett will be associated with Dr. R. A. Neblett.

SCHRAMMS GET HOUSE WARMING WEDNESDAY

On behalf of the guests Mrs. K. E. Frieze presented the new home with a lovely mirror for the mantle-piece. After this was hung, a musical program was given by Mrs. H. A. Brown and Mrs. J. D. Barker, followed by readings by Mrs. Frieze, and new house games.

A beautifully appointed and tasty tea was prepared and served in the dining room by Mrs. Earl Robbins and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy. Miss Orpa Dennis presided at the coffee service for the first part of the evening, followed by Mrs. C. M. Presley.

Miss O'Keeffe Has Painting at Museum In New Exhibition

A new exhibit opened in the Mary E. Hudspeth Gallery at the Museum yesterday. It is the second in a series, the first of which was shown about two months ago, under the local sponsorship of the College Art Department. Miss Isabel Robinson and her assistants hung the pictures.

These pictures are furnished by Living American Art, Inc., New York City, and, as the name suggests, they are the work of contemporary artists.

Special local interest attaches to this exhibit because it contains a picture by Georgia O'Keeffe who was at one time head of the college art department. Miss O'Keeffe is now America's outstanding woman artist. She has painted many scenes in the Palo Duro Canyon.

Each person who views the exhibit is invited to vote for the picture which he likes best. One picture from the collection will be purchased by the college, and the popular vote will be considered in making the selection.

The pictures will remain up for about three weeks.

Nation's War on Crime Hits Efficient, Successful Stride

AMERICA'S drive to purge itself of crime is showing results!

Attacks on the problem on many fronts are reflected today in fewer homicides, extermination of kidnap gangs, and wholesale roundup of a long list of "Public Enemies." The country in the last four years has awakened to the enormity of its crime problem, with its annual toll of $15,000,000,000. It has awakened and taken action.

Between 1933 and 1935, reports Dr. Hugh H. Clegg, assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, murder and homicide declined 16 per cent, burglary and larceny 26 per cent, auto thefts 26.2 per cent.

Encouraging also is his announcement that, whereas in 1930 the biggest age group of all persons arrested and fingerprinted was 19, now the top age is 21.

Three to five years ago, the big-time gangsters strutted across America with brazen defiance. Today most of them are in Alcatraz, Uncle Sam's newest prison, or buried and forgotten.

• • •

DR. CLEGG attributes this remarkable progress against crime to many factors—repeal of prohibition, more efficient police departments, greater co-operation between cities and states, better times. But, he points out, heading the list are the "G-men," the fellows who dealt the first smashing blows to crime.

Today, thanks to the "G-men," several of whom lost their lives in line of duty, the names of Dillinger, "Baby Face" Nelson, Karpis, and scores of other murdering racketeers are blotted out.

Today, firmly determined to clear up the crime problem, the country presents a united front. Having checked off a long list of notorious "rats," as J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F. B. I., calls them, the nation now is turning to the fundamental issue—crime prevention.

Conferences in states and among states, new laws, reorganized police systems, police training schools, delinquent youth and public welfare work fit into a broad, co-ordinated program to whip crime.

• • •

REPEATEDLY Hoover has pointed out that ultimate control of the crime problem rests on the co-operation of society as a whole. Today that seems to be the watchword.

It is best evidenced by the important fact that youth emulates the "officers" today and not the lawbreakers. Gangster glamour is pretty well faded.

Working with and behind this mighty drive, of course, is the long arm of science. The laboratory is the law's right-hand assistant now as never before. Radio simultaneously plays a vital part.

Headquarters of the F. B. I. in Washington houses one of the most amazing and efficient crime laboratories in the world. It lists also millions of fingerprints, the criminal's and those voluntarily offered.

• • •

SO the battle progresses. Three years ago the nation watched its fires flare in an Ohio cornfield, from a Wisconsin resort-hideout, in Chicago's North Side—wherever the law caught up with the lawless.

Today it watches the same battle, but it has swept on to the dark alleys where juvenile delinquency breeds; into the schools; into the homes; into the crime-hating minds of countless millions.

America is getting at the roots now. It's a fight to the finish.

Ace Fred Perry, as Professional, Expected to Spur Interest of Tennis Fans

BY PHILIP MARTIN

PROFESSIONAL tennis, slipping in box office appeal during the last couple of years, takes a new lease on life with the decision of Fred Perry, world's ace netter, to quit the amateur ranks for the paid performers.

For the Britisher is just the person to rekindle waning interest in the sport. In the year just passed Perry annexed virtually all the major honors in amateur tennis competition, including the U. S. singles at Forest Hills. In the Davis Cup playoffs it was Perry's brilliant work which enabled England to retain the mug.

So, having thoroughly demonstrated his superiority over the simon-pures, he naturally turns to the more lucrative fields of professional tennis. Here Perry will find that his main opposition will come from Ellsworth Vines, who for several years has ranked as No. 1 among pro netters.

Meetings between Vines and Perry should pack in the customers and prove a considerable prop to the sagging finances of the circuit.

• • •

NOW that Perry has renounced his claim to the amateur tennis crown, it appears that the American title, at least, will fall to Don Budge, red-headed youthful star.

Budge is admittedly the finest amateur developed in this country since Vines. Don, in fact, whipped Perry in the finals of the Pacific Southwest championships in Los Angeles for one of the few defeats Fred suffered in 1936, and came within an ace of repeating the performance in the national singles.

Budge was the outstanding threat on last year's Davis Cup team and reached the semi-final round at Wimbledon only to be turned back by Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany.

There was no dishonor in that setback, for the German also trimmed Perry, turning the trick in five close sets in Paris during the French hard court tournament.

PERRY, incidentally, considers Von Cramm to be the foremost amateur in the world today, ranking Budge as second.

Budge, however, may prove Perry to be a bum picker before the year is over. Budge will be the mainstay of the 1937 Davis Cup team, and if he clashes with Von Cramm, it should be a great battle—for it will determine who will reign as the world's amateur tennis king.

THE FULLER THE TANK THE LESS WINTER GRIEF and why—

The helpful idea we're talking about will give you extra protection against a freeze-up in your car's gasoline system. The smart thing to do first is to have your carburetor drained—a quick, simple operation for whoever takes care of your car. He will also empty the little glass filter bowl, or "trap." And if you want to be real careful, you will have a certain amount drained from the bottom of the gasoline tank. Thus you get rid of any water that might freeze on the first cold day.

This water was not in the gasoline originally, if you are careful where you buy. But you know that the air always contains more or less moisture, which can gradually form water in your gasoline system. There is less chance of this when you keep too much air out of your gasoline tank, by having it filled close to the top. It is still just as important as ever to get a gasoline that always fires away lickety-split in any cold . . . not dripping and flooding wastefully . . . not draining your battery by a lot of "false starts" . . . not thinning your oil by needless choking. The most helpful thing you can do for yourself right there is to keep your tank full of sure-firing Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze. Continental Oil Company

MAKE THE BEST OF IT

What are you going to accomplish during the year 1937? Are you going to have a goal and strive to reach it sometime during the year?

Life is not worth while if you sit down and do not do any thing and wake up in the end to find you have let another year go by without accomplishing anything. Make the best of the year that lies before you and take advantage of all the opportunities that come your way.

If opportunity does not come, the wise person goes out and makes it; it is this wide-awake person that goes in search of the opportunities who has them, and who gets further along in life.

Turn a new leaf and see who can make the most of all the opportunities that come our way. It pays.

C. H. S. STUDENTS RESOLVE

How many of you have made New Year's resolutions? Everywhere you hear, "I resolve that—" from the Canyon High students.

There are millions of resolutions that each of us could make. Look around the school building, and some ideas pop into your head. For instance, look into the eyes of some of the students; they need to resolve to go to bed earlier. Some students should look at their report cards and resolve to make better grades.

Many of the students took from two to three hours making their resolutions, but some have broken them already. We make resolutions to keep, not to break; in what condition are yours?

Football Banquet Will Be Held Thursday

The annual football banquet will be held in the Presbyterian basement and served by the Presbyterian ladies Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Serving as toastmaster and setting at the head of it all will be Rev. Charles Dickey, Presbyterian minister. The Pep Squad and football boys, along with the faculty and board members, are invited to attend the banquet, which will cost 50 cents a plate. Coach Emil Hutto stated "We are preparing for over seventy-five to be seated."

Evelyn Cluck, Forest Hill, and Carolyn Mayfield are the committee to arrange the banquet. According to them, the decorations will be of purple and white, with football design menu and place cards. The program will consist of the crowning of the Queen, whom the football boys have elected and will crown tonight; tap dancing, reading, impromptu talks, toasts to the football boys and pep squad girls, and a response by a football boy and a pep squad member.

The banquet will be a semi-formal affair. Arrangements for the banquet were made by Mrs. Clarence Thompson, representing the Presbyterian ladies. Mr. Gerald Brown, assistant football coach, states, "I have enjoyed working with the football boys, as they have shown grand spirit, part of which has been caused by the continual backing of the Purple Pep Squad. In my opinion, both girls and boys deserve a banquet if any football team and pep squad ever deserved one."

The menu will consist of grapefruit cocktail, chicken pie, sweet potatoes topped with marshmallows, green black-eyed peas, celery, fruit salad, hot rolls, pineapple pie mounted with whipped cream; with coffee.

Meyer Principal Speaker In Assembly

"Nothing has ever been perfect," stated Dr. A. M. Meyer, professor of education in the College, in assembly Monday morning.

To prove his point, Dr. Meyer gave as an example his watch, which was not perfect because it had lost a minute a day; a cold school building showed an inperfect structure; professional people, he said, are not perfect but are growing more nearly perfect as the years go by.

In closing his talk, Dr. Meyer said that there were great opportunities for the coming generation in improving what has already been done.

The program last Wednesday was sponsored by the Press Club. Mr. H. G. Moore read selections from his original short stories, poems, and plays.

GUESS WHO?

She's a basketball player,
She's tall and slender,
With blue eyes and dark hair.
She's not very bashful,
And not very quiet;
She is wearing new boots
And a jacket that's white.

Answer to last week's Guess Who—Polly Cluck.

A difficult job is never done by the fellow who wags his head and predicts it can't be done.

Flesher, Warwick Zachry Entertain

Dorothy Warwick, Natalie Flesher, and Mary Zachry were hostesses at parties during the holidays.

Right This Way; We Have Everything!

Did all you children of C. H. S. know how much talent we have in this school? Probably not, but I'll tell you of a few of these people.

There are three especially talented young men who specialize in hill-billy songs; namely, Joe Gill, J. D. Breitling, and Mabry Vandergriff.

Martha Joe Newlin rates first honors in the semi-classical field of music; you know, that kind that has so many runs and hard chords.

As for popular music, the Carolettes rate high honors; they take the cup and all the blue ribbons.

Betty Ruth Solomon rivals Ina Ray Hutton for that "hot-cha-swing it" rhythm, while Marie O'Donald takes the blue ribbon for her jazz music and rhythm.

Well, well, well! If it isn't Eston, the model cowboy singer. Hooray for the wild and wooly song personality, I think it sounds like a train whistle, or is it a dogie call? called the "Cowboy's song."

Our girls' basketball coach (who by the way, has been galivanting around out in California and going to the Rose Bowl and such places, with an older person to watch after him) rates the highest honors for crooning. But girls, (I guess you thought there was a catch) he croons in Spanish.

Of course, these names represent just "the cream of the crop," so to speak. Why, if we just uncovered all our hidden talent that's lying around here, I'll bet Major Bowes and his amateurs wouldn't have a chance soon to "strut their stuff." But that's a secret that we'll tell you next week.

Harry L. Hopkins, WPA Administrator: "Can the worker without a job say to the landlord when he comes to collect the rent, 'You be patriotic and don't evict me'?"

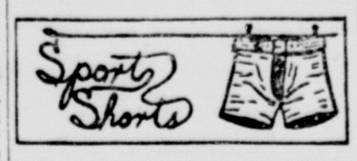
William Lemke, former candidate for the presidency: "I am still proud of the American people, but I am surprised at their poor judgment.

Mid-Term Exams Will Start Next Week

Examinations, which will start Friday, Jan. 15, will come in the order of the classes each day. Each examination will be given a quarter of a day. The fifth and sixth-period examinations will be given from Saturday morning till Saturday at noon.

The Saturday arrangement is to make up for two days lost during vacation, and another six-weeks' tests will be done this way. This is to prevent the semester from running on into June.

The students will not come all day, but only when they have an examination. Students who have and average of "B" and who have satisfactory citizenship records will be exempt from the tests.



Well, I guess that the Eagles made a new year's resolution not to be defeated, because they gave Tulia a good whipping Friday night and beat Dalhart's ears down Saturday night.

The Eaglettes had hard luck Friday night and were defeated by the Tulia girls. They played a great game to be minus Captain Mary Collins and the vacancy left by Sweetie McNeil when she retired from ball playing.

The Eagles won first place at the Friona tournament and received a handsome trophy. The girls placed third and won a cup trophy.

Miss Ruth Greenfield deserves credit for the excellent coaching she did during Coach Brown's absence.

The Eagles practiced during the holidays and were in good shape for the games both Friday and Saturday night.

Well, Mr. Brown, it looks like from the score of the Eaglette-Hornet game new year's night, that your girls really missed you.

Wanda, your gold basketball sure is good-looking. Here's more power to you and thanks to Dimmitt for giving their all-tournament players basketballs.

By the way, students, Tulia girls gave one of our basketball players a new name. Dell Bagley to them is "Dutchman Dell." Wonder if it has anything to do with where she lives?

Faculty Will Meet Wednesday

The Faculty Study Club will meet Wednesday evening, January 13, in the Home Economics room of the high school. Miss Ruth Greenfield will act as chairman for the meeting.

Mr. Gordon Beck, teacher of history in the elementary school, will discuss "Crime Prevention Through Education," and Mrs. Stella Murrell will talk on "Mental Hygiene."

Eagles Defeat Wolves and Hornets

The Eagle basketeers defeated the Tulia Hornets 28-1 Friday night and the Dalhart Wolves 29-26 Saturday night. The Canyon girls were defeated Friday night 23-15 by Tulia. Saturday the Eaglettes defeated the ex-Eaglettes by a score of 15-11.

The Eagles led the Tulia Hornets from start to finish in a well-played game. Tip-off plays functioned smoothly all the last half. Ray Ford Rusk, Eagle center, led the scoring with 12 points. Breitling came next with eight points.

The Tulia girls downed the Eaglettes in a thrilling see-saw game. The Canyon girls played without the service of Mary Collins, star forward, and could not quite hold up the Hornets. Kate Donnell led the scoring for the Eaglettes.

The Eagles downed the Dalhart Wolves in a thrilling game Saturday night, 29-26. The Eagles captured the lead early in the game, and although pushed hard at times, held it for the remainder of the game. C. L. Drummond led the Eagle scoring with eleven points. Fox of Dalhart, led the Wolves with fourteen points.

The Eaglettes defeated the exes in a close and well-played game. The game was played as a practice game, as Dalhart girls had not been scheduled.

"White Elephants" In The Stockings

Not "pink" but "white elephants" how they do pour in every Christmas.

Every Christmas, people receive presents that they like so far as the feeling of friendship is concerned, but they had much rather have something else. The poor men always receive scarfs, or ties, and many other things that they think are nice, of course, but they had rather have something else. Women get silk handkerchiefs, candy that they don't like, useless knick-knacks—the list is endless.

Oh well! Just keep your "white elephant" until next Christmas; then you can give it to Aunt Adeline or to the cousin who always expects something from you, even though you haven't seen each other for five years. But be careful! Don't return your "W. E." to the original giver!

LA TERTULIA CLUB RECEIVES PHONOGRAPH RECORDS

Eight new Spanish phonograph records were received last Monday by the members of La Tertulia, Spanish Club.

The records are "En el Rancho Grande"; Gypsy Airs," a tango; "A Granada" and "Noche Feliz"; "A Bunch of Roses"; and two selections from Carmen; "Habanera," and "Sequidilla."

Hugh Dalton, who comes from Amarillo Senior High School, is a new member of La Tertulia.

Harry W. Colmery, commander, American Legion: "We must not deny the right of free speech or peaceful assembly of any person or any group, not even to those whose theories we despise."

I Hereby Resolve As Follows:

Since New Year's resolutions are of current interest, here are some student samples.

Dell Bagley resolved not to make any New Year's resolutions so she wouldn't break any.

Vaughn Vandergriff resolved to study harder this second semester.

Melvin Calliham said that one not having enough will power to need reforming did not have enough will power to reform.

Mary Collins resolved not to stand up a boy during the year 1937 and never say "I can't."

"Speedy" Wilkinson resolved not to chew any more tobacco.

Lillian Chambers resolved to do as little as possible.

C. L. Drummond resolved to keep all New Year's resolutions except one; which one?

Forrest Hill, Fairy Hill, Jack Middleton, etc. resolved to quit going to a certain town south of here.

Anne Maxwell resolved to quit speaking of a certain person in Pasadena.

Sherman Higdon resolved not to say "Chaw, Chaw" anywhere and not to swear in English class.

A certain pink-haired girl resolved to see some kind of a dog more often. I didn't catch what kind of a dog. This dog is a participant in sports.

Natalie Flesher resolved not to eat chocolate candy any more at junior parties.

Helen Hurst resolved to take the profession of teaching junior English.

Billy L. Greenfield resolved not to keep the resolutions that she made last year. (She did not make any).

Mr. Brown and Mr Stephenson resolved to keep everything picked up in their room.

Mr. Pope resolved to get Mary Collins to bookkeeping on time.

Carolyn Mayfield resolved to answer all letters promptly.

C. L. resolved to keep his body in the best condition possible.

Evelyn Cluck resolved never to sing "Star Dust" again.

Hudson Prichard and Billy Joe Hunter resolved never to play jokes on girls at Christmas.

Clara Bell Newberry resolved: To stop flirting with the men teachers.

Rena Beth Bellah and Martha Jo Newlin resolved to learn to dance during 1937.

Mr. Carruth resolved to never forget more than one thing a day.

Wanda Brock resolved to win more goal basketballs than she did in 1936.

Basketeers Will Meet Strong Opponents

The Eagle and Eaglette basketeers will meet some formidable competition tomorrow, Saturday, and Tuesday in the form of Clovis, Dimmitt, and Amarillo basketball teams.

Tomorrow night, there will be a double-header home game, with the boys playing Clovis to start the week—and of tough battles. The girls are trying to schedule a game with Bovina.

Next on the schedule will be the games with Dimmitt Saturday night there. The quintet and sextet both were beaten by Dimmitt at the Dimmitt tournament, but the boys came back at them and beat them badly at the Friona tournament. This game will settle the dispute, although indefinitely.

Tuesday, the Eagles will journey to Amarillo to play the Golden Sandstorm, better known as the Sandies.

The games will have a critical effect on the outcome of the district race.

Familiar Faces

By C. More

Looking over the small but excited crowd at the basketball game last week-end, I noticed some familiar faces that were there at all of last year's games. There sat Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox, who don't miss a game, although all of their children have already graduated from Canyon High School.

Faces of ex-students appeared around me, also; Wesley and Sewel Cox, home for the Christmas holidays from Abilene Christian College, seem just as interested as they always were when when they were enrolled in C. H. S. Mr. and Mrs. (Marie Price) Owen Miller beam as they see the two present-day teams rolling up the score. There sits Jack Neal Jennings with Boots Johnson; they live in Canyon now. Jack Taylor, one of last year's lettermen, sits there as headstrong as ever. Ogden Stroud, now teaching school, sits wishing he had a turn to shoot for the basket again.

Smiling as he sees part of the team he coached last year in action, sits Mr. Cleveland Jones, with Miss Geneva Lowe along side. Of course, through my rambling, I noticed those ever-watching eyes of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stroud, who rarely miss a game. Mr. Guy Harp, Canyon's postmaster, grins broadly, not at a stamp, but at Eagles' stamping their victories on the scoreboard.

An ex-teacher, Miss Madge Rusk, and her father are there to watch their ever-starring brother and son, "Bot" Rusk, ringing that ball right through the hoop and down the net.

Say, are those boys good! And how! But hold on; they don't deserve all the praising; the girls are rather "swellelegant," too (maybe not the best of grammar, but you get what I mean.)

Of course, one can't help but miss those that used to be seen at our games who are now gone; but we still appreciate the regular loyal group of students and patrons who stand by Canyon High to the last ditch. (A bit too dramatic, perhaps, but oh, how true.)

A Tribute

TO 1937 CARS FROM THE 1937 GASOLINE

NEARLY 500,000 workers are now building your 1937 car. For this vast productive employment, the nation owes a deep debt of gratitude to the automobile industry.

Undaunted by the depression, it courageously expanded its facilities to give greater value . . . made real improvements in safety, in driving and riding comfort, in beauty . . . lifted engine efficiency and operating economy.

As cars have changed, so have gasolines. In fact, Phillips 66 Poly Gas has been called "the gasoline that is years ahead," ready now for the cars of tomorrow.

The reason lies in Phillips' initiative, independence, chemical research, and engineering skill. All these combined have helped give Phillips a remarkable record of "firsts."

Whenever you read or hear about custom-tailored gasoline . . . remember that Phillips did it first! Whenever you read or hear about highest test gasoline at the price of ordinary motor fuel . . . remember that Phillips did it first, and still offers higher test than others! Whenever you read or hear about the patented POLYmerization process which puts extra energy units into every gallon . . . remember that Phillips did it first!

That is why Phillips 66 Poly Gas stays out in front, always at the head of the parade—whether you judge it for faster starting, more mileage, or finer all-round performance. It delivers more power, more pep, more flexibility, and faster response to the throttle.

So it gives you service and savings which simply are not possible in old-fashioned gasolines.

I invite you to prove these statements for yourself. Just try one tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas. It does not cost a penny more than ordinary low-test motor fuels.

In this pool the best grade of materials will be used. Excavation of the pool, inside measurements of which are fifty by seventy-five feet, with a maximum depth of nine feet ten inches, is being done by John McKnight of Amarillo, with C. S. Lambie having the entire contract.

The concrete pool will represent the latest ideas in construction. It will be equipped with tile floor locker rooms and showers. The water will be heated and purified by the most modern and up-to-date sanitary devices that science can offer. The outer wall of the building will be of native stone.

This pool will be completed by June 2 and will be open to the public as well as to college students.

This is the fourth WPA project approved for the betterment of W. T. Stafford Hall, Cousins Hall addition and El Pueblo cottages having been completed during 1936. The pool will be dedicated by the Boy Scouts of the Panhandle, and will probably be called the Franklin D. Roosevelt Pool.
